Applicants gratefully appreciate the reasons for allowance provided in the Notice of Allowance. Nevertheless, Applicants believe that the record as a whole amply supports the allowance of the claims and that further comments from the Patent Office do not completely or fully represent the scope of the invention as defined in the allowed claims. The reasons for allowance incorporate claim interpretations made in the Office Action dated January 3, 2006, in which claim terms were defined based on standard dictionary definitions. These dictionary definitions may be construed as being narrower than the meanings imparted from the record as a whole. Therefore, Applicants wish to ensure that the reasons for allowance do not give rise to any presumption of Applicants' acquiescence to the interpretations made therein based on the dictionary definitions, or any negative inferences that may flow from such definitions. Applicants maintain that the allowed claims are best interpreted in light of the record as a whole.

Respectfully submitted,
